

Interest in Politics Gains Impetus Locally with Congressman, State And County Officers to Be Elected

Filing Dates Between Jan. 16-23; Activity
In Congressional, Representative Races

With 1956 a big election year, the subject of politics gains impetus as each day goes by.

This is the year that a President and other high officers will be voted on in Illinois, along with district, county and precinct offices. This area will elect a congressman, as it does every two years, and three state representatives also so two-year terms. The state senate race does not come up until 1958.

Filing dates are Jan. 16-23, so a lot can happen between now and then. But there has been enough activity the past several weeks to get a fair look at the political picture.

From all indications Kenneth J. Gray, Democratic congressman elected for the first time in 1954, when he unseated C. W. "Runt" Bishop, Carverville Republican who had several whacks at the job, is being renominated is concerned.

Circulate Verhines Petitions
Republicans, naturally, would like to knock him off and candidacies and rumors of candidacies are popping up.

First reports said that Bishop would run for his old seat but Bishop later said "no." One who would like to challenge Gray in the November final is W. O. Verhines, Vienna Republican who is a veteran of the Illinois state legislature. Verhines has announced that he will be a candidate for congress from the 25th district and that his petitions are being circulated through the area. He made his announcement after a meeting of the district GOP congressional

Admits Clubbing Rival to Death In Love Triangle

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—A truck driver told police today that he clubbed an elderly, well-to-do businessman to death because he had stolen the love of his bar maid sweetheart.

The truck driver, 38-year-old Warren Hyde, signed a statement admitting the New Year's Day murder of Lyman Hirs, 60, state and local authorities said.

Hyde, named as a motive the strange love triangle between him, Hirs, and a red haired bar maid, Mrs. Evelyn Dickerson, 37, state patrolman William Shockley reported.

Hyde was arrested Friday night after Hirs' bludgeoned body was found partially submerged in the El river near Columbia City, Ind., about 12 miles from Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Dickerson was also picked up and was held as a material witness.

Hyde, a 140-pound Middleport, N. Y., resident, confessed breaking into the basement of the Hirs home Jan. 1 and slaying the older man with repeated blows from a rifle butt, police said.

Shockley said Hyde told in his statement of how Mrs. Dickerson had shifted her affections from him to Hirs.

She had been Hyde's housekeeper for some time until Hirs came to Fort Wayne several months ago, Hyde said. Their romance began to break up when Hyde moved into Hirs' home as an upstairs-room tenant.

About five weeks ago, Hyde said, Mrs. Dickerson announced she was now Hirs' housekeeper. From then on, she continued to visit the home but confined herself to Hirs' downstairs quarters, he was quoted as saying.

There was talk in the neighborhood that Mrs. Dickerson planned to marry Hirs, Shockley said. Hirs was an investment property owner in Fort Wayne and was reputedly worth $50,000.

Boy, 13; Captures Shark Bare-Handed

MIAMI (AP)—A thirteen-year-old boy said today he captured a nine-foot shark bare-handed and displayed the 250-pound monster to sleepies.

The 93-pound boy, Tony Belcher, said he spotted the shark swimming toward him while sailing his pream in South Biscayne Bay. He said he grabbed the big fish by its wide-flanged tail sticking out of water and held it over the side of his sail boat.

Two other boys came alongside and helped Belcher loop a rope around the shark and haul it to shore with their motor launch, he said.

Gray Calls for Action to Relieve Area Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Kenneth J. Gray has called upon Congress to take "drastic action" to relieve unemployment in southern Illinois.

Gray told a Senate Labor subcommittee Friday that there are 51,000 families on public relief in 15 southern Illinois counties.

Farmers, miners, and industrial workers are experiencing "undue hardships," he said.

Thousands of persons will be forced to leave southern Illinois if federal help is not forthcoming, the Illinois Democrat said.

Southern Illinoisans "don't want dole or handouts," Gray told the senators.

He suggested that federal loans to industry and federal grants of public works in the area might aid the situation.

Westinghouse Asks for Vote On 5-Year Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. awaited word from the International Union of Electrical Workers today on a company proposal for a secret vote by 44,000 striking employees on a five-year contract.

An IUE spokesman in Pittsburgh said the union would agree to a secret ballot "only if the proposals of both sides are put to a vote."

Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan in Washington received a blueprint of the contract offer the company wants to put to a vote and presented it to IUE President James B. Carey.

Finnegan urged both sides "to consider every possible avenue" to settlement of the 83-day violence-marked strike.

The five-year contract was rejected several times by the IUE and the United Electrical Workers (IUE), which has 11,000 members on strike since Oct. 25.

The pact calls for wage and salary increases annually over the five-year period with a total minimum of 23 1/2 cents hourly. It also provides for improved pensions and insurance, arbitration provisions, ground rules for time-studies and a reopener clause in three years "on employment security."

The company proposed the secret ballot as an "alternative" to Finnegan's recommendation that issues in the strike be submitted to a non-binding three-man fact-finding committee.

Carey accepted the fact-finding proposal, but Westinghouse rejected it.

MOUNT ERIE, Ill. (AP)—A Wayne county boy accidentally shot and fatally wounded his brother Friday as they waited for a school bus.

Authorities said 9-year-old Edward Gibson died en route to an Olney hospital after being shot by his 10-year-old brother, Robert.

The boys' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gibson, who live near here.

Edward Gibson was wounded in the abdomen by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun. Authorities had not determined how his brother got hold of the gun.

Eisenhower to Give Report on Health Sunday

Will Meet with Reporters, Then
Leave for Capital

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—President Eisenhower will give reporters Sunday morning a personal report on the state of his health and will discuss with them his plans for the immediate future.

The President will meet about 9 a. m. EST with newsmen who have been covering his post-Christmas vacation here and then will take off for Washington at approximately 11 a. m.

Mr. Eisenhower has been in this southernmost United States city since Dec. 28, soaking up sunshine and getting in some mild exercise.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Friday that Mr. Eisenhower's doctors are sure the trip has done him "a world of good."

The session Sunday will be the nearest thing to a press conference Mr. Eisenhower has had since his heart attack on Sept. 24.

His last formal press conference was last Aug. 4 in Washington.

Hagerty said that the President this morning, hearing of reporters' interest in his physical progress, offered to chat with newsmen "about the condition of his health, how he feels and what he is going to do when he gets back to Washington about resuming the regular routine of the presidency."

Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower would discuss only "the immediate future." This precluded any possibility that the chief executive would be ready to say Sunday whether he intends to run for re-election this year.

Hagerty said the President and Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson said the farm message into a "virtually final form" during Benson's visit with Mr. Eisenhower on Friday.

Afterward the President strolled over to the sonar school baseball field at the Key West Naval Base, site of his vacation headquarters, to watch part of a baseball game between the Secret Service men and the press corps.

The President, accompanied by his brother, Milton Eisenhower, watched nearly three innings of the roundhouse affair in which the traveling SS agents fought a losing battle with the reporters and photographers. The agents afterward won the contest, 12-4, in five innings.

KENORA, Ont. (AP)—A crazed, rifle-toting railroad worker holed up in a trackside shack deep in the Canadian bush for nearly 24 hours, holding his bride as a hostage, until police finally captured him Friday night.

Ontario provincial police said Mike Timoshenko fired more than 100 shots at them during the siege, laid down in five-degrees-below-zero weather.

No one was injured but authorities were fearful during the siege that some of the wild shots fired by Timoshenko would hit passenger trains passing not more than 500 feet from the barricaded shack.

Frost-numbed policemen nearly missed the railroad worker after waiting long hours in the cold for him to give up. He and his frightened wife slipped out of the shack and through police lines, but were captured two hours later. Timoshenko surrendered meekly, police said.

The 34-year-old Canadian National Railways worker apparently went berserk Thursday, police said. He had an argument with his brother-in-law, who was his section foreman, and fired a wild shot at him. The first incident took place at the tiny settlement of Niddrie, 75 miles from Kenora.

Then he began firing shots at everyone in sight, police said. When a detachment of police arrived from Kenora, Timoshenko took his bride of nine months to the trackside shack and barricaded the doors and windows.

Powell Member of Screening Group

Paul Powell, Vienna, Democratic representative from this Legislative district, is a member of the Illinois Democratic screening and slate-making committee, which will announce recommendations as to state candidates Monday.

Rep. Powell flew from Miami, Florida, arriving in Chicago Friday morning. He went to Florida several days ago to accompany Mrs. Powell, who has been ill for a considerable time and is attempting to regain her health in a favorable climate.

Rep. Powell flew to Chicago to attend the policy sessions at urgent request of Mayor Daley of Chicago. The screening committee includes representatives chosen by committeemen and chairman from over the state.

Other possible senatorial candidates who appeared were State Sen. James W. Gray of East St. Louis and State Rep. Richard J. Stengel of Rock Island.

For governor, the committee heard from Stephen A. Mitchell, Chicago, former Democratic national chairman; Herbert C. Paschen, Cook County treasurer; Morris B. Sachs, Chicago, clothing store owner; and Edward J. Barrett, Cook County clerk and former Illinois secretary of state.

Mitchell expressed confidence that he would win the endorsement and Sachs said he would run regardless of what the party brass decided.

Going farther down the ballot, Democrats who appeared before the slate-makers and the officers for which they were considered were:

Glen F. Kunkle, mayor of Freeport, Supreme Court clerk.

B. J. Knight, Rockford, attorney general or lieutenant governor.

Richard Carter, St. Clair County state's attorney, attorney general.

Plan Merger of Presbyterian
Church Groups

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The largest Presbyterian church group in the world may be formed May, 1958, the date of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the United Presbyterian Church of North America have set for merger.

The churches will unite in a combined general assembly to be held here in 1958 if the committees, general assemblies and their presbyteries approve the plan.

The proposed new church will be known as the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. It will have about 3,000,000 communicant members, more than 9,000 congregations and 10,000 ordained ministers.

Dr. Robert W. Gibson, of Monmouth, Ill., and Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, of Marysville, Tenn., co-chairmen of a joint drafting committee, said here Friday, following a two-day planning meeting, that the merger will be recommended by committees of the two churches in March.

They said a plan of union was being outlined on a three-way merger plan which failed in 1954 when the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (Southern) refused to approve a merger accepted by the two other Presbyterian groups.

Democratic Slatemakers Study Candidates for State Ticket

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic slatemakers will try to make up their minds Monday about their 1956 state ticket, and they have a host of hopefuls to choose from.

A parade of candidates for offices ranging from U. S. senator on down filed before the party's slate-making committee Friday.

There were three men who want to be senator and seven who are thinking of running for governor.

The slatemakers devoted the most time to former Sen. Scott W. Lucas of Havana, who is running into opposition from organized labor in his bid for the senatorial nomination.

"Shocked" at Opposition
Lucas, who was defeated in his bid for a second term in 1950, spent almost an hour with the committee. Other candidates got from 10 to 15 minutes.

Lucas said he was "shocked" at the labor opposition, despite complaints about his 1947 vote for the Taft-Hartley Law. He said he voted to sustain President Truman's veto of the law and won AFL and CIO endorsement in 1950.

Other possible senatorial candidates who appeared were State Sen. James W. Gray of East St. Louis and State Rep. Richard J. Stengel of Rock Island.

For governor, the committee heard from Stephen A. Mitchell, Chicago, former Democratic national chairman; Herbert C. Paschen, Cook County treasurer; Morris B. Sachs, Chicago, clothing store owner; and Edward J. Barrett, Cook County clerk and former Illinois secretary of state.

Seeks Second Term on Program 'Of Progress'

Accomplishments
Listed in Talk
To Hometown Crowd

MORRIS, Ill. (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton today was a candidate for re-election, running on a "program of progress."

The governor Friday night made his official announcement in seeking a second term before a hometown audience of more than 1,500 persons packed into the Morris High School gymnasium.

"In all humility, I sincerely believe that a fair appraisal of the accomplishments of this administration would warrant an increased confidence in our ability to continue a program of progress for the ensuing four years," the governor told his enthusiastic audience.

In his half-hour address the governor listed more than a score of "accomplishments" of his three years in office. Chief among these were:

1. A highway program designed to meet future needs, and including improvement of the state primary system at the rate of nearly 100 million dollars a year; a toll road program scheduled to start with 415 millions to be spent on three turnpikes; and a system of urban expressways into Chicago.

"I invite comparison in this field with other administrations either within or outside the state," Stratton said.

2. Constitutional reform, including passage of the first legislative reapportionment bill in more than 30 years under a new constitutional amendment. Stratton also cited efforts in passing new amendments on the judicial and revenue system, with the latter being voted on next fall.

3. An "outstanding job" in public education. "Our first biennial appropriation totaled 304 million dollars and our second was 337 million," the governor said. "Each of these figures represents a new record for public education... we have raised the distributive fund allotment to $200 per pupil; we have provided for needed capital improvements at our state teachers colleges, the University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University."

4. "Under my administration, public welfare is no longer a political football. The care and rehabilitation of the unfortunate wards of the state have been placed on an orderly, businesslike basis," the governor said.

5. Support and passage of labor legislation including increased benefits under workmen's and unemployment compensation, and creation of a new expanded factory safety inspection division and a division of industrial planning to attract new business to the state.

Stratton said both the 1-2 cent sales tax increase and the law to permit cities to assess a 1-2 cent sales tax and other taxes were necessary. The state tax increase met "budgetary" requirements for education and welfare," he said, while the city tax laws helped municipal governments "meet financial requirements for modern services on the local level."

It will be the eighth statewide campaign for the youthful chief executive, who will be 42 Feb. 26. He was twice elected congressman-at-large and twice was state treasurer, being the youngest man to hold either office.

Stratton lost two bids to become secretary of state, a post held by his father, the late William J. Stratton. He lost in a 1944 GOP primary to the party-backed choice and was beaten by Democrat Edward J. Barrett in 1948.

His mother, his wife Shirley, and daughter Diane were on hand Friday night to hear him praised by other state officers. All elected state officers, and Elmer J. Hoffman, Wheaton, Stratton's choice for state treasurer, were on hand.

But Warren E. Wright, who said he would either oppose Stratton or Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter in the April Republican primary, was not present.

Be A Good Egg—Buy Eggs

With egg production on Illinois farms increasing to a high seasonal peak, the Illinois poultry industry is cooperating in a national promotional campaign to stimulate greater use of eggs in midwinter meals.

That's why January is Egg Month.
Recently Illinois farmers have been producing more than 250 million dozen eggs a year. This accounts for more than 5 per cent of national production. The value of eggs produced in Illinois has averaged about $5 million dollars per year.

These figures make it easy to understand why the Illinois poultry industry is interested in any campaign to promote egg consumption.

Consumers are giving increased recognition to the versatility of eggs and their importance to their health and pocketbook. Eggs are one of the cheapest sources of protein, vitamins and minerals. Just like milk, they are almost a complete food within themselves.

In 1920, the average egg consumption in the United States was 295 eggs per person. The consumption in 1955 was about 417 eggs per person, an increase of more than 40 per cent in 35 years.

Charles Merritt of Forrest has been appointed Illinois chairman of January Egg Month by Dr. James Gwin, general manager of Poultry and Egg National Board. The board serves as national headquarters for the campaign. It is a non-profit, consumer-information agency for the nation's poultry industry.

Serving as co-chairman with Merritt are James Roush, poultry marketing specialist at the University of Illinois and J. R. Harris, Department of Agriculture, Division of Markets at Springfield.

DIXON SPRINGS

University of Illinois Experiment Station

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff.)

Clean Wool

Wool is a wonderful fiber that has unmatched qualities of warmth, durability, comfort and luxury. It is the most copied fiber. It is the standard of excellence. It may be surpassed in some characteristics, but in overall quality it is still king of fabrics, both natural and synthetic.

Pound for pound there is no other product of Illinois farms which has as great a value as wool. Yet, this valuable product too often is handled carelessly and marketed haphazardly. We tend to put emphasis on market lambs because simple arithmetic shows them to be the biggest money-makers in a sheep flock. But simple arithmetic will also show that the wool crop often represents the profit of a sheep business. Wool deserves better care.

Take Care of Fleeces

Norris Phelps, sheep herdsman, recognizes the value of clean fleeces.
He knows that on many farms the value of next spring's wool clip is being reduced day by day by improper feeding of the flock.
This feeding is perhaps not improper nutritionally but improper in method. Norris knows that on these farms, grain and hay are being thrown upon the heads and necks of sheep eating from the bunks. Worse still, on some farms hay is being fed from slatted overhead feeders which continually shower chaff along the entire back of each sheep. These fleeces will gradually become so fouled with foreign material that even the protective value of the wool for the sheep will be reduced.

A Handy System

Any day this winter you can watch Norris Phelps making a real effort to keep the fleeces clean on some 700 breeding ewes in the Station flock. Norris says his system is really not an effort but a convenience. Before feeding, he shuts the flock from the feeding area.
This way he does not have to stumble around and he avoids dumping grain and chaff into the folds of wool on the necks of the sheep.
The feeders which he uses serve for silage, hay and grain. They are vertically slatted, movable bunks with solid bottoms only about six inches off the floor. In these bunks the ewe flock is not feeding upward, but generally down so that falling chaff is no problem.

In this day of slogans we might dub this good management practice, "Keep the flock fleece free of filth. Feed the Phelps way."

ing inexpensively. Some poultry-ing are providing satisfactory housing for $1.00 to $1.25 per square foot. Assuredly, if the per-bird housing costs run high there is little chance of making a profit.
Insulation will conserve heat from the ground, the hens, and the sun in winter and provide some protection from summer heat.

Correct ventilation to provide needed oxygen and to hold down moisture is essential. Humidity is a real winter problem in the poultry house. Two practices will help control it satisfactorily. First, provide deep litter—12 to 18 inches—and stir frequently to keep it absorbent. Secondly, provide good ventilation without drafts. Use south or east windows so constructed that they do not let the wind blow on the birds but will help ventilate. Drafts will give colds to hens. Sick birds soon will knock egg production in the head.

Good nutrition must be assured in winter to keep birds healthy and laying. More artificially supplied vitamin A is needed in winter when green feed is scarce. Adding 10 pounds of dehydrated alfalfa leaf meal per 100 pounds of laying mash will fill the bill. About half of the daily ration ought to be mash and the rest whole yellow corn as a scratch feed.

Attention to watering is important. Laying hens need ample supplies of clean water. A winter problem is to keep the water from freezing. If the laying house is not warm enough to keep interior temperatures above freezing on the coldest days some provision for heating the water supply ought to be made. Exposed water pipes need insulation or an electric heating cable to keep them from freezing.

A little extra lighting in the laying house will help egg production in winter, too. Forty-watt lights at 10-foot intervals lengthwise along the ceiling will be about right —one lamp per 200 square feet of floor space. Keep lights burning enough to give the laying hens a 13-hour day.

Then gather the eggs.

the meat-type hogs in these two breeds. They will provide breeding stock for a swine herd utilized for teaching and research.

Most recent to arrive are two Durocs, one each from the first two Illinois litters to be certified in the Duroc Certified Meat Type Program. One was obtained from Glenn Newlin, Hidalgo, and the other from Theodore Kocher, Route 3, Newton. Both are prominent Illinois producers of purebred Duroc swine.

These animals fit into today's livestock needs for meat type hogs which produce less fat and a higher percentage of lean cuts than do the intermediate type hogs. Reports claim pigs from the Duroc certified litters are uniform in type and quality and are heavily muscled, meaning they are high in percentages of primal cuts of meat produced.

Oat Silage For Dairy Cows

Oat silage is a good roughage for dairy cows if you feed it right.
Dairy scientists at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture say that oat silage has been a satisfactory grass silage for feeding the University dairy herd.

College dairymen like to feed some legume hay along with oat silage. They believe that you should feed a 13 to 14 percent total protein grain mixture when you feed a good legume. Producing cows that get only oat silage as roughage need at least 15 percent protein in the grain mixture.

Feeding high-moisture oat silage may cause a drop in milk production. So it's a good idea to shift gradually from an all-hay to a partial hay and oat silage feeding schedule to keep milk production up.

It may be wise to feed more grain than usual along with oat silage to make sure your cows get enough energy. One pound of grain to each 2 1/2 pounds of milk produced should maintain top production. If you see that you can keep production high with less grain, then feed only as much as you need.

Experience with oat silage at the University dairy farm shows that adding molasses or ground ear corn to the silage while ensiling it as a preservative will improve its quality.

JUST THREE LEGS TO STAND ON—This three-legged calf is the rarely recently born near Mansfield, Ohio. The calf is perfectly formed except that it has no sign of a left front leg. It must be bottle-fed, because it cannot stand up to reach the udder. Owner G. A. McCoy, shown supporting the calf, wants to turn it over to a circus or carnival, where it can get better care.

4-H Room Projects To Be Year-Round

Many 4-H clubs are planning 1956 Room Improvement projects to begin this winter and carry through next summer. This suggestion helps relieve some of the strain and pressure of a heavy summer program. Then, too, by doing club project work during the winter, we may expect fewer conflicts with other activities, vacations, etc.

Room Improvement projects are planned in a series. A 10-year-old can take one of them as her first project. As she does more 4-H work, she can take the more advanced projects.

Projects are set up for two age groups. Members up to high school age may enroll in Beginning Flower Arrangements, Beginning Table Covers, and Pictures. Projects for members of high school age or above are Draped Dressing Tables, Advanced Flower Arrangement, Dining-Table Covers, Pictures for Pleasure and the Five-Year Room Plan. Abiding by the recommendations of the University specialists yields greater satisfaction.

Much time has been devoted to the study of ability and aptitudes of different age groups. Then, the 4-H booklets are prepared by specialists who take into consideration the ability of the girl, according to age, the amount of time she may spend in a summer project, and many other factors. If you study those project books, you will find that they contain some valuable basic principles in each phase of project work and they are books more valuable than sometimes given credit. In the past, our girls have been mostly concerned with foods and clothing projects.

Radio City Music Hall is the largest indoor theater in the world

Proof of Earnings Needed When Filing For Social Security

Anyone who intends to file a claim for old-age insurance benefits in January should be prepared to furnish evidence of his 1955 earnings. E. Bishop Hill, manager of the Harrisburg Social Security Administration office, said today. Since 1955 earnings may be important in determining the amount of benefits payable, evidence of the exact amount earned should be presented on your first visit to the social security office.

The evidence required from a self-employed person is a copy of his income tax return for 1955, and evidence that he has paid the social security self-employment tax to the Director of Internal Revenue. This evidence may be a post office money order stub, a cancelled check, or a receipt from the Internal Revenue Service. An extra copy of the schedule C or F of the tax return should be prepared to submit with your claim.

The evidence of a wage earner's income is the form W-2, Withholding Tax statement. He should obtain a W-2 wage statement from each employer for whom he worked in 1955, to submit at the time of filing his claim for social security benefits.

The insured worker who has reached age 65 and has not earned more than $2080.00 during 1955 should file a claim in January 1956 to avoid loss of any benefits to which he may be entitled. The insured worker who was over age 72 in any month in 1955 may be entitled to benefits regardless of the amount of his earnings.

Mr. Hill said that workers may call at the Harrisburg District office between the hours of 8:30 and 4:30, Monday through Friday, excepting legal holidays.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

This Congress is Really
One Big Political Stage

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON -- (NEA) —
There are only two schools of thought on what will happen in the second session of the 84th Congress.

One view is that, this being an election year, Congress will pass a lot of new laws in desperate efforts to win support of perennially discontented groups like the farmers, labor, hyphenated-Americans, business, the rich, the poor and taxpayers.

The other view is that, this being an election year, Congress will do nothing, for fear of making somebody mad.

Both points of view recognize the fundamental fact that politics will be the principal business conducted.

There are two presidential candidates on the floor of the Senate — Democrat Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Republican William F. Knowland of California.

WATCHING THEM BOTH from his presidential office's chair will be Vice President Richard M. Nixon of California, who has even more at stake than the other two.

Behind this trio is a pride of hungry political lions waiting to leap.
It includes 50 senators—30 Democrats and 20 Republicans whose names have been suggested for the vice presidency.

There is no such concentration of vice presidential hopefuls in the lower House. But all the representatives have to run for re-election in 1956. Only 32 senators' seats have to be filled—17 Republicans and 15 Democrats.

The political overtones will also be heard in the heavy calendar of investigations shaping up. Here the Democrats have stolen the Republican thunder.

The GOP came to town three years ago bent on exposing all the mistakes of past Democratic administrations. But now the Democrats have taken over committee chairmanships and are directing probes to show up Eisenhower administration failures. And the Republicans are protesting that it's dirty politics.

SEN. KEFAUVER is set to keep after the Dixon-Yates deal, as well as his juvenile delinquency and black market baby-adoption crusades.

Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma is setting the stage for a nice probe into civil aviation policy.

During the fall recess, Sen. Ellender (La.) has investigated the farm situation. Sen. Hennings (Mo.) has investigated the security program. Sen. O'Mahoney (Wyo.) has investigated mergers and monopolies. Sen. Johnston (S. C.) has investigated postmasters' appointments in Texas.

If President Eisenhower decides to run again, the Republicans can ride his coattails as a personality and leader, with less regard to the record made by Congress.
But if Ike doesn't run, then the GOP record in Congress is all that the Republicans will have to run on, and it had better be good.

IN ADDITION TO new proposals on such things as taxes, foreign aid and budget balancing, the carryover of unfinished business from the 1955 session is sizable.
Of 180 principal recommendations Congress by President Eisenhower, only half were enacted.

Among the leftovers are international trade regulation, social security amendments, flood insurance, postal rate revision, the highway program, aid to schools and aid to low-income farmers.

Postponement of the two national conventions until August will enable Congress to work a little later than normal.

Sen. O'Mahoney has sponsored legislation to prevent last-minute jams such as occurred at the end of the 1955 session. But with every lawmaker anxious to get home and campaign, the pressure will be on for an early wind-up.

Java is about the size of the state of Alabama.

PATTERNS IN THE SNOW

They make pretty patterns on the snow, these fences. But they were not built "for looks." They were erected for protection. They stand as bulwarks against the physical elements.

There are other kinds of bulwarks most of us need in our daily lives—spiritual bulwarks. For even the strongest of us cannot stand alone. Sometimes we think we can... but the moment comes when we realize how much we need help.

It is then that we turn toward the Church. And, no matter how remote we may have been, the Church stands there with doors open wide, ready to receive us.

But should we wait until we really need a spiritual bulwark? How much better to establish ourselves in the Church now and be assured of its strength and comfort through all our days.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Jesus Teaches Confidence in God'

Luke 12:22-34

GOLDEN TEXT: "Seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you." (Luke 12:29-31)

INTRODUCTION: "Self preservation is the first law of human nature." Every boy scout learns this early in his training. All mankind experiences it throughout life.

Jesus had just been confronted with a man who wanted Him to make his brother divide his inheritance with him. Jesus warned this man against covetousness, and said: "Man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." Then He told the parable of the "rich fool."

Jesus was not saying that there is anything wrong with reasonable preparation, for the present and future. In fact, it is sinful not to do so. We know people who make no preparation for their physical needs for the present and future. They are social parasites. They hold no embarrassment when it comes to "sponging" off friends and neighbors.

What Jesus was saying that it is wrong to become over-anxious about the future.

LIFE IS MORE THAN THESE (V. 22-24)

1. MORE THAN FOOD—Some folks do seem to "live to eat." American doctors tell us that more people in this land die from the results of over-eating than from any other cause. Constant over-eating results in many serious physical conditions. One of our greatest sins lies at this point. Jesus says that real life is more than food.

2. MORE THAN CLOTHING—How about your clothes closet? Does it consist of many garments which you seldom, or perhaps never, wear? Perhaps Jesus was talking to you. There is absolutely nothing wrong with a person dressing as best he can, as long as the purchase of clothing does not become an obsession. Jesus is saying that real life consists of more than raiment. He points out that God takes care of the birds of the air, and He will meet your needs.

II LIFE DEPENDS ON GOD (V. 25-28)

Would you like to be an inch taller? Can you begin worrying about this desire and thus add an inch to your stature? Certainly not! Jesus is here saying, then, "Why worry about things you cannot help?"

CONCLUSION—Jesus has said to all His followers: "I go to prepare a place for you." He is preparing your place out of the materials you are now sending up to Him. "Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (v. 34). The tragedy today is that so many people have become so interested in food, clothing, houses, money and pleasures, that they seem not to be interested in heaven. They will be interested one day, but also, it will be too late. Friend, this matter is worthy of your thinking. Why not begin today to "seek first the kingdom of God?"

Shawneetown Wins 14th Straight; Mt. Vernon Rams Beat W. Frankfort, 64-59

A couple of small schools with big ambitions added to long winning streaks Friday night in Illinois high school basketball. Shawneetown winning its 14th straight and Little York taking its 12th without a loss.

The Shawneetown Indians won by a smaller margin than expected, downing Vienna 58-50. Little York also had a hard battle in conquering Keithsburg, 45-42.

East Moline, marching to a fine record this season, lost a heart-breaker 63-61 to Moline in a near-upset. The win gave Moline an 8-2 record.

Mount Vernon won southern Illinois' big game, turning back West Frankfort 64-59. Mount Vernon now has a 10-2 record for the campaign. In other southern Illinois contests, Herrin trounced Zeigler 65-47 and Centralia whipped Harrisburg 69-58.

Galesburg Wallops Kewanee Unbeaten Galesburg humbled Kewanee 71-46. Rockford West, with the height of Nolden Green and Johnny Wessels proving too much, outclassed Aurora East 75-23. Elgin turned back Rockford East in another Big Eight conference game, 84-72.

In the southwest area, Collinsville defeated Alton 69-65 in a battle between two highly ranked quintets. Edwardsville had a big margin over a good Belleville outfit in winning 81-62.

Canton was upset by East Peoria 54-52. Quincy had an easy time with Peoria Woodruff 67-37. Peoria Central also breezed by Peoria Manual 71-44.

Thornton Upsets Kankakee There were a number of surprises in the suburban loops. Thornton of Harvey walloped twice-beaten Kankakee 80-57. Arlington Heights nosed out Glenbard 72-70.

La Grange moved back into the victory column after its loss to Moline with an easy 80-53 triumph against Riverside-Brookfield. Maywood Provost licked Cicero Morton 60-52.

The game was close throughout and during the first half there was never more than a four-point spread. At the end of the first quarter Eldorado led 15-14 and at halftime McLeansboro had gone ahead, 26-25.

The winning McLeansboro team outscored Eldorado by five points in the third frame and was on top by a 43-37 count as the final frame began. Although Eldorado rallied in the last quarter, the Eagles managed to reduce the score by only four points and lost 54-52.

Eldorado's Lovellette scored 18 points for scoring honors. McLeansboro's high point man was Sloan with 17.

Eldorado took the preliminary game 54-44.

Giese Named Grid Coach at U. of South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S. C. — Warren G. Giese, the offensive strategist for highly ranked Maryland, took over the head football coaching job at the University of South Carolina today under a three-year contract at $12,000 a year.

The 31-year-old native of Milwaukee succeeds veteran Gamecock Coach Rex Enright who will remain at South Carolina as athletic director. Enright served in both capacities at the school for 17 years but said he found both jobs "impossible" to handle "adequately."

Giese learned his football as a player under Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland. He has been a member of the Maryland coaching staff for eight years and Tatum's chief assistant for several years.

He played football at Wisconsin State College, Central Michigan, and Oklahoma, where he was coached by Tatum. He was an All-Big Seven end at Oklahoma following a tour of Naval V-12 duty during which he played under Tatum at Jacksonville, Fla.

Shawneetown, Cave-in-Rock, Ridgway, Rosiclare Win Loop Tilts

The Shawneetown Indians kept on the victory trail Friday night, defeating Vienna 58-50 in a Greater Egyptian conference basketball game.

In other conference games Ridgway, Rosiclare and Cave-in-Rock gained victories as all members of the loop engaged in conference competition.

Shawneetown, leading the league with eight victories and no defeats, won at the free throw line, hitting 24 of 34 charity tosses. Vienna had only 14 chances from the free throw line and hit six times.

Jack Nolen paced Shawneetown's attack with 21 points and was successful on 11 of 14 free tosses. Walters was tops for Vienna with 18 markers.

Alfred Gunzel, Shawneetown forward who was injured earlier this week, played only a short time last night, but apparently will be ready for full time duty soon.

Galatia, playing without the services of its captain and top scorer, John Tate, dropped a 70-59 game at Cave-in-Rock. In an earlier game, with Tate hitting for 19, Galatia topped Cave-in-Rock 53-51.

A big 23-point second quarter pushed the Rockers into a 35-28 halftime advantage, after Galatia had held a 14-12 lead at the first quarter.

College Seniors Play Pro Rules in North-South Tilt

MOBILE, Ala. — The nation's top college seniors get their first taste of play-for-pay football today when the North and South squads square off in the seventh annual Senior Bowl game.

A capacity crowd of 36,000 and 50 professional scouts are expected to be on hand to watch the 50 collegians making up the two teams. They will play under professional rules and employ a "sudden death" extra period in case of a tie.

The "sudden death" playoff, the pro pattern for settling tied championship games, assures the fans a chance to see a crack in the 33-3 deadlock in the series.

The game will not be televised but will be broadcast nationally by the Mutual Broadcasting Co.

Locals Fall Apart in Second Quarter; Play Marion Here Tonight

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, who traveled all the way to Centralia last night only to lose, 69-58, in a South Seven basketball game, meet the Marion Wildcats in the more familiar surroundings of Davenport gym this evening. It, too, is a loop tilt.

Harrisburg played a bang-up first quarter against the Orphans, but fell apart the second. In fact, Centralia scored 17 points during the second frame, during which time the locals could not tally a single point.

Hot shooting by Benny Fulkerson, local guard, kept the Bull Dogs in the running throughout the second half although the Orphan lead was insurmountable. Too, Centralia Coach Jim Evers led quite a bit of substituting in the second half.

So good were the Bull Dogs that they were leading, 16-15, at the end of the first quarter. They stayed with the Orphans the first two and a half minutes of the second frame, the score being tied at 20-20 at that point.

Orphans Lead 39-23 at Half
Then the bottom dropped out and the confused Bull Dogs saw Centralia put 17 points through the hoop before the locals could tally again. Centralia outscored Harrisburg 24-6 in this frame and led 39-22 at halftime.

The Bull Dogs were outscored only 15-13 the third period, which ended 54-35, then came back strong to outscore the Orphans, 23-15, the last frame.

Fulkerson, who was high scorer of the game with 26 points, made 22 of them the last half.

Figures show that Harrisburg made 39 per cent of its field goal attempts the first half, 47 per cent the last. Centralia made 43 per cent the first half, 36 the last.

In the free throw department, Harrisburg lagged, making but 10 out of 29. Centralia's 17 out of 27 was more respectable.

In the preliminary contest, the Bull Pups' winning streak of six came to an abrupt halt as the Centralia freshman-sophomore team won, 69-48. The score was tied 11-11 at the end of the first quarter, but Centralia led 35-23 at the half and 53-30 at the end of the third period. Henshaw was high for the locals with 12 points. Hassett had 8, Yates 6, Price 4, and the Marion Wildcats and Ken two each. Pickford also played.
